TOKA

We established our company in Kosovo because of the country's culture and tradition, and its potential for producing some of the highest-quality organic saffron available.

Historically, saffron has been cultivated and exported throughout the world from this region since the 15th century.

The discovery of this ancestral culture and tradition, as well as the local population's intimate knowledge of saffron cultivation, encouraged us to venture out into this agricultural sector.

With a perfect climate and fertile lands, Kosovo offers ideal conditions for growing saffron. It is for this reason that we named our company "Toka", the Albanian word for arable land, in order to build upon that tradition and culture and create an attractive brand for a superior product.
